WHOLE WORLD SHARES THE NATION'S SORROW.

CITY'S GREAT SORROW SEEN ON EVERY HAND.

Grief Over the Death of the President-Sympathy for His Stricken Widow.

half-masted flags, of sombre draperies, of men and women whose hearts are full. The death of the President came to all quite as forcibly as would have a been for years the dead man's loved personal affliction. The grief of the people is not only heartfelt but it is outwardly apparent. describing the condition of the stricken long. President that it has seemed almost as though the people were at his bedside. smiling in pain, they have almost heard the gentle voice of the sufferer. The week of patient waiting which the President endured made him the brother

Hoped Against Hope.

It was known yesterday that he would die, and yet the people did not give up For into the night they stood in front of bulletin boards, at telephones, eager for news of a turn for the better. But as the night wore on the builetins more and more dispiriting, and when sleep was sought it was with the consciousness that the worst might be

The tolling of bells announced the news to some. Others learned it from their morning newspapers, but the vast majority heard it by word of mouth. In flat-houses and apartment-houses the janitors went around in the early morning, knocking softly at doors and telling of the passing of Mr. McKinley. In the streets men who had the news stopped men who had not heard and said: "The President is dead; he died

Many in Tears.

ment was heard. The first thought ap-

"Poor Mrs. McKinley," was the pity-So continuous have been the bulletins | She will not be separated from him for > Those whose duties called them down opportunity to observe a striking change from the condition that usually prevails in this city. The hurrying, jostling crowds on the "L" platforms and in the cars had been transformed into the cars had been transformed into courteous gatherings of men and women. The voices of all were subdued. It was not uncommon to see a man with bowed head weeping as he read the touching details of the last farewell of the President to his frail, suffering

Quiet Reigns Everywhere.

As the towering hives of industry of New York, usually inseparable from the course of business, was wanting. The struggle for wealth was forgotten. The prevalent sense of sorrow had a softening effect. Many employers closed heir places of business as a mark of

The sun had scarcely risen when the work of putting the city in habiliments of woe was begun. Before the church the downtown section will be deen window will hang a symbol of sorrow in the shape of a black drapery. every hand will appear the familiar Tears came to eyes that have seldom features of the President encompassed known the touch of tears. The sense by the color of mourning.

STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSED BY PRESIDENT'S DEATH.

At an informal meeting of the Board of Governors of the Stock Exchange at 9.40 o'clock this morning it was decided that the Exchange should remained closed to-day out of respect to the memory of the Presi-

Similar action was taken by the Consolidated, the Produce and the Cot ton Exchanges.

The loan market was kept open from 10 to 11.

Forced London Stock Exchange to Close. LONDON, Sept. 14 .- The most remarkable scene in the history of th Stock Exchange occurred this morning when the Governing Committee refused to comply with the request of several members to close the exchange to-day out of respect to the memory of President McKinley

The indignant members suspended operations at once and assembling themselves drew up a set of resolutions in which they condemned the Committee in bitter terms, and unanimously agreed to refuse all orders. The American department is therefore closed informally.

SPEAKER, HOME,

David B. Henderson of lows Speaker of the House of Representatives, returned on the American line steamship St. Paul to-day. With him was Mrs. Henderson, Mr. F. H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, and Mr. J. W. Babcock, of Speaker Henderson was so deeply grieved when he heard at Quarantine the news of the death of the President that he refused to be interviewed "The death of President McKluley is a blow to me. I feel as if I had lost a brother." said the Speaker "He was my personal friend, a good man and a great character and one who well filled the Presidential position. "He is dead, and his assassin still He was not killed by the mob when he struck the dastard blow, and that shows that law and order are supreme in this land.

"Our eyes turn to the future, and I have no fear for the Government to come, as it is in able hands."
Speaker Henderson went abroad about two months ago for a rest.

LIBERTY BELL'S MOURNFUL NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.-This city to-day wears a sombre mantle of mourning, and heartfelt grief is manifested on every side over the tragic end President McKinley.

On Government, municipal and private bulldings broad bands of crape bear slient testimony of the city's sorrow, and the flags at half-mast tell of the nation's bereavement.

Until the early morning thousands of persons thronged the streets in the vicinity of the newspaper offices until the direful news was flashed over the wires, and to those who remained anx- to-day. ous and expectant in their homes the and tidings were proclaimed by the bell SYMPATHY FOR THE WIDOW.

Gov. Stone to-day issued a proclama-tion fixing to-morrow as a day of prayet in the hour of the country's great affic-

SORROW OF GOV, VOORHEES. in speaking of the death of Pres-pure-minded man and noble pa dead, but the world is better he has lived. The President's is a great chlamity, and the grief ntrymen will be universal and WON'T DRAPE DEEPLY GRIEVED. THE WHITE HOUSE spects for President McKinley.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 14.-After incipalities. It seems as if every little town in England is individually retary Hay and Acting Secretaries Gillespie and Hackett an order was issued, by direction of the Secretary of State closing all executive departments of the was done at the time of the death of Gen. Grant. were dismissed. The order was telegraphed to all branches of the executive department throughout the country

At the White House this forenoon the only evidence of the President's death was the fact that the flag was at half staned in mourning, nor will any of the veral years ago having had its atten tion called to the matter and enacted a law prohibiting the display of mourn ng on public buildings.

POLICE STATIONS WILL BE DRAPED.

The news of President McKinley sioner Murphy at his home. He at once issued this order:

The station-houses will all be draped iffly eight times—one stroke for each year of the President's life.

The Mayor wrote his proclamation calling on all citizens to drape their houses in black.

Gay store of the President's life.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Gov. W. Murray Crane sent the following telegram to Mrs. McKinley from the Executive Department this morning:

Massachusetts extends her fondest d deepest sympathy in your afflic-n. The death of your illustrious hus-nd has fouched the people of this mmonwealth profoundly. "W. MURRAY CRANE, Governor.

CAPE TOWN MOURNS.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 14.-A remarkable expression of sympathy was mad here to-day when the news of President McKinley's death was received. All the public stores and private houses put no their flags at half staff and messages of sympathy poured into the American Consulate office.

Cardinal John H. Newman's Grand Hymn, Which the Dead President Liked So Well, and Which Will Be Sung in Nearly All Churches To-Morrow.

SYMPATHY FOR THE NEW

Union Jacks Floating at Half-Mast Over Public

LONDON, Sept. 14.-From the towers of Westminster Abbey, from the gray buildings where the government of the Empire is administered, from the Mansion House and the law courts, from churches, hotels and business and private houses in London Union Jacks are floating at half-mast as a isitors being in deep mourning, passes in and out, recording their last re-

Telegrams are pouring in from prominent Englishmen, societies and mu

Everything, as yet, is rather unsettled, but it is probable that a memo-

Whether the British Government will issue any official notification of Affecting scenes marked the announcement of the death of the President

Throughout the length and breadth of Europe feelings similar to those at the Ecumenical Methodist Conference, which passed resolutions declaring that the whole Christian world sympathized with the American people.

WORLD'S RULERS TOLD

rial service of imposing proportions will be held in Westminster Abbey, as

At the United States Embassy a quiet and sorrowful crowd, many of the and Private Buildings in London.

I was not ever thus, nor prayed that Thou Shouldst lead me on

I loved to choose and see my path; but now Lead Thou me on

I loved the garish day, and, spite of fears, Pride ruled my will, remember not past years.

OLD WORLD MOURNS IN

mark of sympathy for the murdered President mourning rests chiefly with King Edward.

So long Thy power hath blest me, sure it still

O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till The night is gone;

And with the morn those angel faces smile, Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

AI IHEHUME

Sorrow at the President's Death.

CROWDS AT BULLETINS.

With Eves Red with Weeping They Packed the Streets for Blocks Around.

CANTON, Sept. 14.-All Canton waited news from Buffalo with bated breath talk politics. from early evening, and until the morning was well advanced people thronged befailen us Democrats and Republicans surrounded by crowds that packed the President." streets for several blocks on either side It was a quiet, orderly crowd, bowed down with an overwhelming sorrow. There was no demonstration over the news.

As the news told of the approaching end the grief of the watchers grew intense. Eyes were red with weeping and solss mingled with words of such conversation as was attempted. Men and women alike walked about the street with tears streaming down their cheeks. At the McKiniey house half a dozen servants, the only inmates, were wellingh prostrated. Many of them have long been associated with the McKiniey family, and all deeply feel the bereavement.

Sir Thomas Lipton co-day sent the fol owing message to the press from Sand;

"I am very much pained and grieve at the sad news regarding the Presi-dent's death, all the more so as I had A most cheering telegram from his brother on the 10th saying he was happy Fox and Jesse Sellgman came over with to inform me that the doctors looked for s speedy recovery. His death is a loss the whole world and it will be felt

Town Is Overwhelmed with

FLAGS AT HALF MAST TELL OF LONDON'S GRIEF

Universal Expression

LONDON. Sept. 14.-United States ambassador Choate arrived at the Emeasey from Scotland early this morning. No official news of President McKiney's death had been received there orior to his arrival, but the Associated Press despatches announcing the death f the President were taken as sufficient

As the crowds hurrying to their heads upon seeing the mournful CREPE-DRAPED droop of the flag. Callers came early ind wrote their names in the book opened for the purpose of condolences. The first of these was Mr. Charles Spencer Francis, United States Minister to Greece, who is now in London. On the Mansion House and other pubic and private buildings the flags were quickly placed at half mast, universally expressed. The Lord Mayor sent to United States Ambassador Choate the following mes-

o pass a vote of condolence will be held Thursday next. Memorial Service Suggested.

inflicted by the assassin's bullet to borders and prints portraits Hay's face told of the depressing effect department at 3 o'clock to execute the

Henry B. F. McFarland, President of the Board of District Commissioners.

GERMAN FLAGS

KING EDWARD TENDERS SYMPATHY.

Edward telegraphed to Am-Most truly do I sympathize with you and the whole American nation at the loss of your distinguished and ever-to-be-regretted Presi-EDWARD REX."

Cathedral. He belongs to a race whose leaders are buried there. We could fine no apter mode of emphasizing the unity of the Anglo-Saxon people."

FLAGS IN PARIS.

PARIS, Sept. 14.-The news of Presi dent McKinley's death became known here generally at about 10 o'clock, and the central portion of the city imme diately bristled with furled and crepe draped American flags.

The United States Embassy and Consulate, all the hotels and American business houses and the establishments of many French firms on the Avenue de L'Opera, the Rue de la Paix, the main boulevards and in the Champs-Elvsee quarter displayed this mark of respect The United States Embassy had not received official notification of the President's death when the Associated Press despatches announcing it arrived, and might have been spared for the welfare at 9.30 the news was communicated to the day.

Minister of Foreign Affaires Delcasse called at the Embassy at about 10 o'clock, but could not be received.

Exchanges Closed. LONDON, Sept. 14.-The Stock Ex change opened as usual this morning, but immediately closed, without any irning transactions, out of respect for Presi-and dent McKinley.

PresiThe Liverpool Cotton Exchange also

> Spain's Respectful Regrets. MADRID. Sept. 14.-Several of the Madrid newspapers publish editorials upon the death of President McKinley, of whom they all speak in terms of DANTZIC. Sept. 14.—When Emperor William heard of the death of President McAnley he immediately ordered the German fleet to half-mast their flags and to hoist the Stars and Stripes at their maintops.

Emperor William has sent the following departed by the granted you have suffered by the death of your beloved husband, felled by the ruthless wind and death of President McChmiley. I hasten to express the deepest and most heartfelt sympathy of the German which he has visited you.

CROKER'S GRIEF OVER DEATH OF M'KINLEY.

Tammany Chieftain Heard the Sad News When He Landed from Lucania.

Richard Croker, leader of Tammany; Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner fall, arrived to-day on the Cunard ine steamship Lucania, which docked at 3.30 o'clock. The first question asked first to bid you welcome home." Mr. by Mr. Croker was as to the condition of President McKinley.

When told that the President was "Too bad! I am very sorry." Then he dictaced to his secretary, Thomas Smith, this statement: "When the whole American nation is of our Chief Magistrate it is no time to stand side by side as American citizens. with uncovered heade, shocked and grief-stricken at the bler of our dead

Was Deeply Grieved.

Mr. Croker seemed deeply moved by the sad news, though he said the passengers had expected to hear it, as they had not been buoyed up by hope like citizens at home, and when the vessel sailed the report was that Mr. Mc-Kinley was fatally shot.

Mr. Croker was asked what he thought about Mr. Roosevelt as President. He eclined to discuss the matter. Suddenly Mr. Croker asked:

He was told that they would probably e postponed, and said:

"That is the right thing to do. There ought to be no races. Mr. Croker, when asked about his perience on the English turf, said: "You know all about that already. I will say that some of the Americans Andrew Freedman, ex-Senator John Mr. Croker on the Lucania and were on rs met the ship down the bay. Mr. Croker was then dressed in a long white pearl buttons. He wore an outing

On the way to the dock he changed his clothes, donning a suit of dark blue Thomas Sails aside and dictate his tatement on the death of the President. Warm Kiss for Young Son.

At the dock the first person to run up the gangplank was Mr. Croker's young son Bertle. The chief caught the lad up in his arms and kissed him affectionately, and hand in hand they went down the gangplank. The first to greet Mr. Croker on the dock was ex-District

COLER PAYS A

Comptroller Coler had this to say to worry. Roosevelt is a man and a man of honor. I believe his first act will be one that will receive the approbation of every loyal citizen of the United States; I believe he will request every member of Mr. McKinley's Cabinet to Saturday, as planned.

The doctor says there is absolutely no danger for Ambassador Porter, who only needs rest to insure his complete recovery within a few days. In fact, but for the shooting of President McKinley Mr. Porter would have started on a journey to Constantinople next remain with him, and announce his intention of continuing the same policy. "In this he will receive no more cordial support and approbation than from those who opposed his party at the last people see fit to take action themselves.

CONDOLENCES.

to the deplorable attempt on his life. I sympathize with you with all my heart in the calamity which thus strikes at their maintops.

"I was the last man to bid you good by," he said, "and am happy to be the Next came John F. Carroll, deputy leader of Tammany Hall, and Deputy Chief of Police Devery. Mr. Croker was moving briskly along the dock when Mr Carroll hailed him. "What is your hurry, chief?" he said,

"What is your hurry, chief?" he said, Mr. Croker turned.
"Hello, Johnnie!" he said, and shook hards. Then the throng of Tammany men crowded around and Mr. Croker held an informal reception. In the front rank was Chief Devery, towering head and shoulders above the others. Mr. Croker shook his hand gravely, but was not heard to speak to him.

At this point Lewis Nixon, Chairman of the old Committee of Five, reached out his hand to greet Mr. Croker, Mr. Croker selzed his arm and walked with him some distance down the dock. Then he turned to speak to Isidor Straus.

Lim some distance down the dock. Then he turned to speak to Isidor Straus.
Others who greeted the chief on the dock were Dr. W. J. O'Sullivan, Larry Delmour, Commissioners Keating, Sexton and Nagle, Register Isaac Fromme, President of the Borough James J. Coogan, Charles F. McCarren, Mr. Croker's nephew; Dantel F. McMahon, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall; Peter F. Meyer, Mr. Croker's partner; Senator Thomas F. Grady, Deputy Health Officer Cosby, Nicholas Hayes, John F. Tiernan, a Governor of the Democratic Club, and Commissioner Daly. commissioner Daly.

Health Is Excellent.

Mr. Croker smiled gravely and shook ands with all. He had a word or two nly with each one, but no reference to

An Evening World reporter greeted.
Mr. Croker.
"How is your health?" was asked.
"It is splendid—splendid," replied Mr.
Croker. "We had a fine trip and the only regret we had as in the sad news at landing."
It was expected that Mr. Croker would take a cab. Senator Grady asked:
"Shall I call a cab?" but Mr. Croker waved his hand and said:
"What is the matter with a street car?"

car?"
Mr. Croker led the procession. There was a number of longshoremen along the street, and they recognized him. They doffed their hats and Mr. Croker saluted trem.
Mr. Croker, with Senator Grady, Secretary Smith and his sons, Frank and Richard, then took a crosstown car to the Sixth avenue "L" at Fourteenth street, and so on up to the Fiftleth street station and across to the Demogratic Club.

An incident of the voyage as told by a fellow-passenger was that Mr. Croker, while on deck one day was reading a book entitled "Richard Croker," when something in it angered him and he threw it overboard.

The book in falling struck one of the officers of the vessel, and Mr. Croker apologized to him.

reaves the great American nation of a HIGH TRIBUTE. President so justly respected and loved.

"By the death of President McKinley of the entire people.

"It has been my good fortune in the ast to have known rather intimately. in an official way, Vice-President Roose-"Business interests have no need to

"The safety of our republican form of government demands that we show clearly that the ballot is the only form of change among a free people. The way to stop the bullet is for us all to show that it is ineffective, and that our conditions shall remain the same, until "The safety of our republican form of at the proper time and through the exercise of their own franchises, the PARK CONCERTS

PARIS, Sept. 14.-President Loubet sent the following despatch to Mrs.

"I learn with deep pain that His Excellency, Mr. McKinley, has succumbed VISIT FROM

BUFFALO, Sept. 11 .- An affecting in-

ALL ABANDONED.

All park concerts scheduled for to-day have been cancelled by order of Park Commissioner Clausen. There will be no concerts at the beaches about the city this afternoon or to-night.

KAISER'S SAD TRIBUTE. DANTZIC. Sept. 14.-When Emperor William heard of the death of President

If You Are A Judge, You Will Find That OLD CROW RYE

is a pure article, and leaves no trail behind. It's only people who are not judges that are using doctored Whiskeys (both American and Scotch), and don't know it.

Gold Medal Paris 1900.

H. B. KIRK & CO., New York.

best is voiced by the Vienna Neues Weiner Tageblatt, which says: "The ocean is not wide enough to hold all the sympathy that is streaming from the Old World to the New.'

OF M'KINLEY'S DEATH.

evinced in the British metropolis seem to have been evoked. Perhaps the heath was reported to Police Commis- Secretary of State Receives the Sad Intelligence and Communicates It to United States Representatives Abroad.

> WASHINGTON, Sept. II .- Secretary of arrangements for the funeral in accord-State Hay was officially notified of the cath of President McKinley by a mes- whatever requests the late President iger from the State Department short- may have made, before 3 o'clock, the State Depart- Secretary Hay was too deply affected ent having been advised of the fact last night by the announcement that the Colonel Montgomery, who received a President had succumbed to the wounds Hay at once had Assistant Secretary department summoned to his residence. the death has had on him. he dietated official despatches. One was sent to Vice-President Rooseselt and others to all American diplo-reign countries of the death of the President of the United States. Mr. Hay will not start for Buffale anhe has communicated with Secreary Cortelyou. It is understood that been received, and sent a formal telegram of sympathy and condelence to the new President, Mr. Roosevelt, will Mrs. McKinley.

NO MATINEES IN

nats and consuls and representatives broad, who are directed to notify the

The local theatrical managers met in main closed until Monday night. The the theatres of the city to-day.

The playhouses will, however, reopen to-night, but close again on the day NEW YORK TO-DAY of the Prestient's funeral.

speak. The pained expression on Mr.

and a close personal friend of Mr. Mc

Kinley, remained until after definite in telligence of the President's demise had instructions of the Secretary.

the Empire Theatre this moraing and latter house was to have opened todecided to abandon the matinees in all night, with a season of English grand ley,

Wallack's and the Broadway will re of Genuine Sorrow in the English Capital-Stock Exchanges Close.

pon the Embassy to half mast.

All the papers are issuing extras lined with deep black, and sympathy is "The citizens of London are profoundly moved and deeply affected by he sad intelligence of President Mc-Kiniey's death. They had hope that, inder Providence, so valuable a life might have been spared for the welfare of his country. In their name I beg to tender to Your Excellency heartfelt sympathy and shall be grateful if you will convey it to Mrs. McKinley and the people of the United States. The eminent career and public services of Mr. McKinley are widely appreciated here and will long be remembered by the British people, who, having themselves sustained the loss of a beloved sovereign, more keenly sympathize with the inited States in the sudden removal of their distinguished President."

A meeting of the London Corporation

LONDON. Sept. 14.-The Morning eader appears with heavy mourning sketches of the lives of the late Presi-dent McKiniey and of Theodore Roosevelt. It expresses the deep sympathy felt in Great Britain and suggests that the only appropriate expression of na-tional sympathy will be the holding of memorial service in St. Paul's Cathe Leader says: "Mr. McKinley of the stock which built the

MAN FLAGS

AT HALF-MAST.

Decode to the great American nation.

Germany meuras with America for her noise son, who lost his life while he was fulfalling his littly to his country and people. (Signed) WILLIAM I. R."

Its Majesty also sent the following depants:

your dearest affections and which be-

"EMILE LOUBET."

drove up. The Ambassador's physician received him and explained bassador Porter, and that it was deemed inadvisable to allow him to receive any ne President Loubet expressed deep sympathy with the Ambassador and asked that the latter be informed of his visit and that he intended [grsonally to convey condolences over the loss sustained by the American people. He then detarted. parted.

The doctor says there is absolutely no

MRS. HOBART.